Work On Sewage System Progressing

Several large operations which are keeping the town officials on the go are the construction of the sewer system, which was started last year, and disposal plant, laying of a new water main from the pump house to the town limits and down Broadway, a new pump house and filtration plant. Itch banks along main street are being leveled by the town's bulldozer and all the large trees are being removed. The street will be boulevardized which will add greatly to the appearance of the street.

Work is progressing rapidly on the disposal plant and foundations are in and concrete is now being put in for the tanks. All necessary machinery and pipe are on hand to complete both the sewer and water projects which is hoped will be finished this year. Wet weather has held up work on the sewer mains in the town but there is still much other work to be done.

Henry Berger and Son are the Contractors on the job.

Editorial

There has been no mention of a good place for the organization to clean up campaign in Raymond this year, no enthusiasm from any of the clubs or organizations regarding a clean up of our back yards and alleys and Raymond in general. There should be a yearly campaign for clean up and the campaign should be organized. It seems that discoveries such as 24D and some dusting methods.

A clean up not only beautifies and helps nature in her efforts to beautify, but it is necessary from a health angle. Even if there is no organized clean-up everyone should do their part in their own yards and around their own property.

A CHALLENGE FOR BOSSY

From behind the curtain has come the moaning of Skhema who adds her voice to those fighting the cold war for the Kremlin.

Skhema is a cow. She is more than just that; she is one of those master race of cows which the Soviet claims to have developed, and Tasa the Russian news agency, says that she has broken all records for butterfat production. By the way of facts and figures, Tasa says that in her ten years of life, Skhema has grazed and chewed her way into producing enough butterfat for 10,995 pounds of butter. At the current Russian retail price of $5.50 a pound this means that she has added $60,472.50 to the turnover from the collective farm where she does her stint for the state.

It is not so long ago since a Canadian cow, going by the imposing name of Lonheim Texal Happy, was crowned champion of the world at London, Ont. While this decision could not be vetoed in the U.N. Security Council, the Soviet government probably realized that it was an economic impossibility for a capitalistic cow to be supreme in any of the normal functions of cows. How could she, when she is exploited by the farmer for private profit? And so, the Soviet answer to Lonheim Texal Happy is Skhema.

Canadian cows are not going to take this lying down in the pasture. Two-legged democrats may be a little slow in realizing what's what but not our Jerseys and Holsteins. They are quite capable of meeting this, or any other competition from totalitarianism.

It is unfortunate that Canadian scales of salaries have not been brought to higher levels," emphasized that many such scientists are working for the Ministry of Agriculture, "at considerable sacrifice". He quoted a concrete example of one of his classmates at college who spent 15 years in the Canadian Government's service and reached a maximum of $3,200 finally being forced to leave because he had assumed added family responsibility. He got a job immediately for a starting salary of $6,000 with a commercial concern and he is now receiving $7,200.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner has explained that increases are being granted to science workers in agriculture where salaries are under review. "I can only repeat what I said last year," said Mr. Gardiner, "that we were in advance of any of the other departments in having a review made of salaries and having increases provided for under the general survey that was being made of salaries throughout the service. ALL OUT EFFORT

Gossip in political circles along Parliament Hill indicates an all-out effort on the part of the government forces to capture the by-elections being held in May and June, with several cabinet ministers giving much of their time and thought towards the campaigns. The overall majority of the government in Parliament now is 126 as against 116 Progressive-Conservatives, CCF, Social Credit, Bloc Populaire and Independents, these being 67, 29, 14, 2 and 4 respectively. In other words, the Government is anxious to add a seat or more to its present holdings and considers its majority rather slim, judging from the all-out effort in the by-elections. In addition, it is known here that some cabinet changes may be in the making shortly and it is understood that these are being held up until the by-elections will be decided, with rumors persisting that two present members of the cabinet may be elevated to the Senate before long. STUDYING IMPROVEMENTS

Transport Minister Chevrier has disclosed here that the Board of Transport Commissioners has been requested by him to form a committee to study the smoke problem in congested areas though he did hint that solving the problem by means of electrification of the railways was "extremely costly". He also made known that the Board has a special committee studying means of safeguarding railways from slides in rocky mountain areas, with a large sum being put aside by the CNR for the installation of a block system to warn engineers of slides. SAID IN THE CAPITAL

"There must be a limit as to how far we can allow ourselves to use diplomatic freedoms for propaganda purposes," said Gordon Graydon, in the House of Commons.

"As to the announcement I made recently with reference to bringing immigrants by air, one reason for that arrangement was the great shortage in shipping facilities," emphasized Hon. James A. Macdonald here in explaining shortage at ships.

"Things have been getting worse since then" declared J. M. Macdonald MP saying that in 1946 Canada was getting along well until she decided to revalue her dollar, adding U.S. investment in Canada was "cut off" like the turning of a tap.

"All likelihood of any immediate peace settlement with all Germany disappeared with the failure of the London peace Conference of Foreign Ministers last winter," said Under-Secretary of State Lester Pearson to the External Affairs Committee here.

"We have heard a great deal about the necessity of low cost housing," remarked UCF leader M. J. Coldwell in the House of Commons. That necessity exists in acute form in every part of Canada.

WEEKLY WIND UP
A group representing 179,000 Indians from reservations across Canada and in eagle feathered headdresses beaded tribal ceremonial regalia as well as buckskin moccasins, proved an unusually colorful delegation in this capital where they had arrived to ask a cabinet group to grant them equality with other Canadians.

WEEKLY LETTER

HAY MAKING WITH
CRESTED WHEATGRASS

A severe winter has again focused the attention of farmers and ranchers on the question of adequate feed reserves. Feed stocks throughout much of the province have been badly depleted and will have to be built up again as a form of insurance against another severe season.

Throughout the drier section of the province crested wheatgrass is the most dependable grass that can be grown. It is very drought resistant and stands will survive several dry years. In addition the grass makes a very early start in the spring and can take advantage of the available moisture at that time. This is particularly noticeable this year when "ticks" of crested wheatgrass have made a good growth and are much further ahead than adjoining native range.

To make a good quality hay crested wheatgrass must be cut just after heading and before full flowering. If left longer than this the grass becomes wiry and tough and is not particularly relished by stock. This is probably the main reason that crested wheatgrass hasn't been more widely utilized for hay production in the past. When a considerable acreage has to be cut it is often advisable to start mowing a little before heading so that the whole field will be down before the grass passes its best stage.

Yield data obtained at a number of points throughout the southeastern part of the province have shown that a yield of approximately three quarters to one ton of cured hay per acre may be expected in most years. This, of course, will depend upon available moisture. Regarding yield, it should be noted that the hay crop in any one year is the total growth since the previous year's cut. As a result a crested wheatgrass field should not be pastured after August in any one year if a good hay crop is expected the following year. Information regarding seedling and managing crested wheatgrass for hay or pasture may be obtained from your district Agriculturalist or from the nearest Dominion Experimental Station.

My Week

by R. J. Dearham

It is interesting these days to pick up a number of different papers across Canada—samples of what people read. Do the readers make the papers or the editors? Some of these are gay, some are serious, some are worried about word problems but always here and there, there is a touch of light. I ran across this one in the Saturday, May 1st issue, of the Edmonton Journal:

"At a recent banquet of Henry Wallace supporters, the charge was $100 a plate, obviously not the 'century of the common man'."

The hundred dollar banquets which our American friends bring forward in election years are really gentle ways of contributing to campaign funds. In this country we would be rather suspicious of such a thing and a $100 per plate dinner might hurt both old political parties—it would ruin the C.C.F. The Social Creditors might get away with it—money comes easier to them. We are rather fond of plain living and like thinking so far as our political life is concerned. Sometimes we get both and sometimes we get neither—that is the way of this world—its not a wicked world even at that.

We had a Drama Festival lately in Ottawa and a Ukrainian girl, Miss Olga Landiak of the London Little Theatre won first prize as the best actress. A French group, the Cercle Moliere of Winnipeg won the first prize for the best French play "La Domination", and Les Compagnons of Montreal won high praise for their presentation of "Antigone" directed by Father Legault. Then sometime ago we had a Musical Festival here and a colored gentleman a punter on the C.N.R. with a fine baritone voice won high praise for his singing. Ah, well they were all Canadians. Competition gives strength to life. These people won because they deserved to win. We should have more competitions along these lines.

A good friend of mine suggested to me the other day that high salaries such as some of our big executives receive give those who are on ordinary salaries a feeling of frustration. I was sorry to hear it. Let us compare two ways of doing things: A competitive society with some prizes which reach high levels and with others getting comparatively little or a society in which none went above the dead average and no matter how much anyone contributed there would be no special rewards.

Well here's something to think over. In one of our great American corporations if the top executives were cut to the level of the best workers it wouldn't raise the wages packages of cigarettes a month. If of the workers by so much as two we divided the extra which goes to those who reach the top there would be many industries in which it would not add $10. per year to the average worker—it might reduce it by more than that. The point is this: there are men who are capable of organizing, expanding and developing a business. The world would be a great deal poorer if these men did not ex-

OVERTIME IN OTTAWA

With only several weeks remaining before this session will be adjourned and a long list of unfinished business still on the legislative agenda members of Parliament are going to work "overtime" in order to complete as much of their tasks as possible so that Parliament may close prior to about June 30, sitting on Wednesday nights and obviously showing a burst of activity in the next several weeks, including full-dress debates on certain items which will provide more news from this nations capital than previously, judging from hints heard backstage here.

PRICE REDUCTIONS

Ever since the Canadian Government announced the removal of the sales tax on certain foodstuffs, people have been complaining that price reductions in stores across this country have not been forthcoming as anticipated. However it must be pointed out that information in this capital shows that immediate price cuts could not be made on the food items involved by the lifting of the tax in the budget since the sales tax has been paid on the stocks now in the stores and in the hands of food distributors, with the added comment that stocks are plentiful not only in the stores but in the warehouses at the present time.

NEW TREATY ARRANGEMENTS

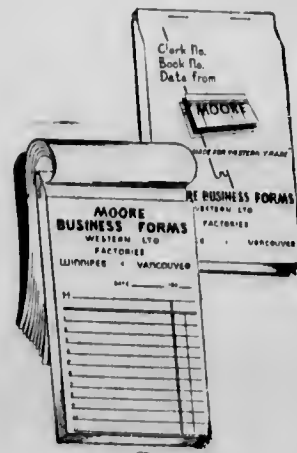

"Any changes of tenure, in the event of union of Newfoundland with Canada, would of course require new treaty arrangements with the United States Government," said External Affairs Minister St. Laurent when asked in Parliament what would happen if Newfoundland favored union with Canada to the ownership of defence bases which are now occupied by U.S. forces.

EXTENSIONS & IMPROVEMENTS

The Canadian Government is proposing to introduce various improvements and extensions in the mail services of rural areas, it is learned here, though it is known that rural areas may not feel the benefits of the all-up mail service to the same degree as the more populated centres this being in reference to the carrying of mail by air under certain circumstances starting July 1. It is known in the capital that the Post Office Department is studying ways and means of inaugurating some changes which will bring marked extension of mail service to the let so too would be the workers in Canadian industry.

What do people like to read. They like to read something light and humorous. I sent out a story the other day which had both these qualities. There wasn't much in it that I wrote myself, it was an exchange of letters between a hotel guest and the management of the hotel. It appeared under the title "Did It Ever Happen to You." Yes it was bright and humorous and I had more comment on it than anything I have written for a year and it compares favorably with two of my most popular stories "The Hawk" and "The Fish and 'A Sparrow Falls". People like stories with life, movement and humor, and in this country today there is very little humorous writing. We are a serious people, far too serious.

SCIENCE & AGRICULTURE

The constantly growing science service for agricultural undertakings of the Canadian Government has been raising much interest along Parliament Hill where it is said that progress is being made to raise the salaries of such scientific workers not merely to improve science services to the nation but to retain necessary personnel. In fact the whole thing has been raised in the House of Commons.

SUMMER ATTENTION

Aside from some replanting, about the only summer care the garden should need will be thinning, weeding and cultivation. If the soil is very dry it is advisable to water. One good soaking is worth a dozen sprinkles. Sprinkling, only settles the dust and has a tendency to bring root growth too close to the surface where the sun is liable to hurt it. A little chemical fertilizer applied carefully according to directions is also a good thing at this time. It will hurry along growth and with vegetables will increase tenderness. When the hot weather sets in it is well to cut lawn grass less frequently and not as short. This protects roots from the burning sun. During warm weather is the best time to apply 2-4-D weed killers. This attacks broad-leaved weeds but leaves grass undamaged.

Beans, lettuce, carrots and beets can be planted at intervals right up to early July with still good prospects of a crop. Where fall climate is mild and moist peas can be sown for an autumn crop in late July.

TALL ONES NEED SUPPORT

For tall plants or those pruned to grow tall like tomatoes, staking is advisable. Perennials like delphiniums and hollyhocks are quite liable to break over in a high wind or during a heavy rain. Stakes about an inch thick and wide and as tall as necessary, will hold these flowers and also tomatoes. They need not be conspicuous if driven in behind the plants and they can always be stained brown or green. Plants should be tied to them loosely with soft twine or raffia. For bushy things like peonies, hoops of wire or wood placed in position before blooming will prove very satisfactory.

RIGHT EQUIPMENT HELPS

Good sharp tools will save a lot of hard work. A dull tool or hoe never do the work efficiently. A few of the special tools too, will prove helpful—things like Dutch hoes, hand cultivators and long handled spudders to get the weeds out. Under the general heading of labor savers will be weed killers like the new 2-4-D and some of the DDT insect sprays or dusts. These do the job with little effort.

Where vegetable gardens and lawns are beyond the average size one of the new garden tractors will prove a wonderful time saver. With attachments these will cultivate, haul earth or stones, cut the lawn, mow tall grass and weeds on rough land, plow pump water and even remove snow. They will do more jobs than a horse and at a fraction of the expense.

A declaration of "War On Pests" and an urgent call for action by its member units with the co-operation of every citizen, was made here today by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada.

Making the statement on the Chamber's behalf, Phillip Pugsley, executive vice-president of the national organization, said that according to the authorities staggering food losses epidemics and many deaths, have been attributed each year directly several varieties of insects.

"Modern science enables their complete destruction today," he said, "but to accomplish this result the support of all people in our Dominion is essential."

Number one target for 1918 will be household pests such as flies, mosquitoes, etc. The campaign will be launched in June.

Quoting statistics Mr. Pugsley mentioned that Canadian milk production can be increased by 500,000, 000 pounds annually and beef production by 133,000,000 through proper fly control methods. Incidence of typhoid fever, dysentery, summer complaint, food poisoning and possibly infantile paralysis will be reduced perceptibly if effective action is taken.

Two flies alone could have 191,000, 000,000,000,000 descendants by August if eggs are laid in early spring. Each of these billions is a potential carrier of at least 20 different diseases.

Action taken by local Junior Chambers and Junior Boards of Trade from coast to coast will have the backing of federal and provincial health and agricultural departments, declared Mr. Pugsley.

Through organized rural and urban anti-pest campaigns, health and living standards of Canadian should be vastly improved.

LEGION NOTES

The Legionnaires and all War Veterans in general are asked to take notice that the joint general meeting of the two branches, Raymond and New Dayton, will be held in the Hungan Hall at Raymond on Wednesday, June 9th, at 8:00 p.m. The highlights of the meeting will be the presentation of report by Paul Woolley, who attended the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion recently held in Saskatoon as a delegate of both branches. Much business that was taken up at the convention is of vital interest to every war Veteran who therefore, cannot afford to miss the first annual report on the Convention proceedings.

Immediately prior to the general gathering a brief executive meeting of the Raymond branch will be held to take care of the current business and plans for July 1st in regard to a t additional float and parade in support of the Community Celebration of the day and opening of the Raymond Stampede.

Following the business and hearing of the delegate an interesting program of entertainment will be carried out which includes music, various games and refreshments.

With the clear warmer weather now in progress it is expected that the construction work on the Legion Hall will be started shortly. The Legionnaires are hereby requested to be ready to report for work at the site on the first call from the chairman of the Building Committee Eric Atwood with Tommy Roberts being the Construction Supervisor for the Legion.

It is gratifying to be able to report that the Memorial Building fund has been slowly but surely increasing with the assistance of our friends. At this time a further subscription by the Japanese Canadian Citizenship Association is to be acknowledged with the sum being $22.50.
